Thank you for choosing to attend Washburn University. Your decision to become a music major will prove to be one of the most important and pivotal decisions of your life. The education that you receive at Washburn will become the foundation for which you will build the framework of your future. The friends and professors that you meet will become lifetime colleagues and mentors. As a department, we pledge to you our total commitment to the pursuit of excellence in every class, performance, and endeavor. We are confident that we will provide you with a rich learning environment in a safe and caring atmosphere. Together, we aspire to build upon our tradition of excellence. We are pleased that you have selected Washburn University, and we welcome you to the Department of Music.

Department of Music

The Department of Music is a unit of the College of Arts and Sciences in the Division of Creative and Performing Arts. The department is dedicated to community outreach and presenting its accomplishments to the public by performing a unique role in promoting and enhancing the image and prestige of the University.

The Music Department prepares individuals for careers in the field of music while promoting a lifetime of continuous learning and appreciation for music. Music courses in the Fine Arts are a vital part of the General Education program, which is the foundation for all undergraduate degrees. In addition, non-majors can continue their musical experience by participating in performance ensembles and/or applied instruction. Students and members of the community may enrich their appreciation and enjoyment of music by attending live performances sponsored by the department.

The Music Department is fully accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM), The Kansas Department of Education (KSDE), and the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). The Department of Music utilizes the review and self-assessment required by these accrediting associations to achieve continuous improvement and accountability for its various programs.

Mission Statement

Our mission statement is the window through which we view all our efforts in teaching, scholarship, research, and service:

Consistent with the mission of the University and the College of Arts and Sciences, the Department of Music is dedicated to sharing a personal commitment to musical excellence as exemplified in creative activities, research, teaching, and public performances contributing to the expansion of knowledge in the field of music. This personal commitment to our students encourages them to think creatively, speak effectively, and write critically. Through musical performances and sponsorship of musical activities, the Department of Music strives to enrich the cultural, aesthetic, and creative life of the university, the community, the region, and the nation.

Music Student Learning Outcomes

Music students at Washburn University, upon graduation, are expected to have:

- Demonstrated music performance skills (think creatively; present effectively);

About this Handbook

The student handbook references departmental policies, enrollment, assessment, degree requirements, use of department facilities, and opportunities for scholarships and awards. Although every effort is made to make this handbook correct in form and content, it should be considered as a “guide” and is not “contractual.” Additional information can be found by consulting the University Catalog, Music Department website www.washburn.edu/music , faculty advisors, and each semester’s class schedule. Any changes or updates made to the handbook can be found on the Music Department website. If you find errors or the omission of any topic that is critical to all Music Majors, please inform the Music Department Secretary.

A final note (before the details)

General Information

Attendance

Attendance requirements for all music courses are determined by each individual professor. If you are ill and cannot attend classes, please contact the music office (670-1511). A note regarding your absence will be posted. Course syllabi will provide detailed attendance requirements.

Policy for Student, Staff, and all other Accompanists

Although some student and staff accompanists are available, the Music Department cannot guarantee the availability of accompanists for all students enrolled in applied lessons. Staff accompanists have their own policy that they will share with each student. If a departmental accompanist is not available, it is the student's responsibility to find and pay for an accompanist. Studio teachers must approve any accompanist and reserve the right to make any changes. In addition, students may be asked to sign a release form to allow studio teachers to speak of pertinent student matters in the presence of the accompanist. (Please see Music Department Staff Accompanist Policies for more information, pg. 74 handbook)

Assessments in the Department of Music

Educational Testing Service Music Exam (ETS): Major Field Test (MFT)

The goal of the MFT, a national-normed exam, is to measure the learning and retention of senior Music Majors, just prior to graduation. The exam will cover the areas of music theory, music listening, and music history. The test scores are used by the Music Department to identify program weaknesses and strengths, and to modify our curricula, as needed. Scores are not used for grades or to determine any individual student potential.

Seniors:

All seniors are required to take the ETS Music exam near the conclusion of their degree program. This exam should not be scheduled until a student has completed all the Music Theory and Music History course sequences. This test is required for graduation.

Transfer: (Licensure only)

Transfer and "Licensure only" students who need less than one complete year of Music Theory or Music History from Washburn University are exempt from taking the ETS Major Field test before graduation.

Music Major Status – Admittance Policy

All students applying to major in the music degree programs and/or seeking "Licensure only" in music education program, must audition to be accepted into the Department of Music. In addition, all "Licensure only" students must perform a conducting audition prior to being admitted into the program. Students accepted for "Licensure only" will be required to complete all requirements for the Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree, including the Senior Recital, the RPE, the Piano Proficiency exam, and 24 recital credits, after review of all transcripts. Once a student has auditioned and has been accepted into the Department of Music, the Department Chair will process a Declaration of Major.

Students who have left or lost Music Major status for more than one year must re-audition into the Department of Music. Students wishing to change their music degree program from the original program for which they were admitted may be required to present an audition for acceptance into the new degree program. The Change of Degree form must be submitted to the Department Chair.

Any incoming student accepted on probation by the Department of Music will be reassessed at the end of one probationary semester. Students will be notified by their applied instructors of any specific requirement(s) that must be addressed during that semester. Students accepted on a probationary status are required to attend all scheduled performance classes within their applied area. (The decision to be accepted/not accepted as a Music Major will be based upon an end of the semester hearing, separate from the required semester jury).

Rhythmic Perception Exam (RPE)

The RPE is designed to establish a minimum competency in rhythmic proficiency for all Music Majors. Students will demonstrate an understanding of rhythms by passing both written and performance exams in simple and compound meters.

Policies and Procedures

- Students pursuing the Bachelor of Arts degree in Music, the Bachelor of Musical Arts, the Bachelor of Music in Music Education, the Bachelor of Music in Performance, Licensure only, transfer students, or students seeking second degrees, must pass the RPE to graduate. The RPE will be offered at least twice during the fall and spring semesters and will also be administered to all incoming Music Majors.
- Students passing the exam on their first attempt will pass the Rhythmic Perception class and will receive a grade of “A” after they enroll in MU 122: Rhythmic Perception. Students who do not pass the exam on their first attempt must attend and complete MU 122. The final exam for MU 122 will be the RPE. Students who pass the final exam in MU 122 with a grade of 90% or higher will not take a separate RPE: they have passed the RPE.
- If the student does not pass the RPE after one more attempt, it is advised that the student enroll in applied percussion lessons, studying related rhythmic materials until the RPE is passed. If a student fails MU 122 or MU 123, he/she must successfully complete the course the next time it is offered, whether the RPE exam has been passed. In addition, students must pass all RPE requirements before they will be allowed to present the Performance Proficiency exam or a Double Jury.

Rhythmic Perception Exam Structure

- Written Component: There will be approximately 185 points possible. Students must score 90% or higher to pass this component of the RPE. Students will be given 20 minutes to complete the written component.
- Performance Component: Students will be given four short (3-5 measures) rhythmic exercises: (A) two exercises in simple meter, (B) two exercises in compound meter
- Students must select one exercise in each category and clap, speak, or sing the rhythms. A metronome will provide the pulse. Each exercise will have approximately 25-30 notes/rests. Students must make no more than three mistakes per exercise to pass this component.
- Two faculty members will form a committee to administer and evaluate the RPE.
- If a student passes one component of the exam (written or performance), they will not be required to re-take that section the next time the exam is offered.
- Students who have not passed the RPE by the end of their 4th semester of study will be placed on probation for one semester. If the student does not pass the RPE during this probationary semester, he or she will no longer have music major status. The student may apply to be considered for reinstatement.

Applied Lesson Juries

Students enrolled in applied lessons are required to perform a proficiency exam before a faculty jury at the end of each semester of study. Accompanists are required for each semester jury (except for keyboard and percussion). Sign-up sheets will be posted on the music office door one week prior to exams. Music Majors and non-majors may receive no semester grade higher than one letter grade above the average jury grade.

Recital/Concert Attendance

- One faculty member must be selected from outside of the division. This faculty member must have some experience with the performance medium.
- The panel must total an odd number of members to eliminate the possibility of a tied result.
- One additional faculty member will serve as a non-voting facilitator.
- The student's applied instructor cannot be a voting member of the panel.

Panel members will:

- Have one vote each
- Complete one jury rubric for each performer: the student must score 45 points or above to earn a passing vote from the faculty member.
- Provide comments: written comments are encouraged for all students, but they are required for scores below 45 points.

Faculty outside of the student's performance area will complete a general PPE rubric, rather than the division-specific rubric.

- Students on probation have a maximum of one semester to resolve deficiencies (two semesters to resolve a deficiency in Music Theory I and/or Group Piano I).
- Failure to meet the deficiency in a timely manner will result in loss of music major status and music department scholarships, and the student will be recommended to seek further advisement from their advisor and/or applied instructor. The student may apply to be considered for reinstatement by submitting a letter to their applied divisions coordinator. - Scale Exam
- Group Piano I

Students who pass this exam will be allowed to register for upper division credit in applied lessons, ensembles, and music classes in subsequent semesters. All Bachelor of Arts students must successfully pass the double jury to graduate.

Non-majors may receive upper division credit by passing a performance proficiency exam titled a Double Jury. Students who pass this exam will be allowed to register for upper division credit in applied lessons, ensembles, and music classes in subsequent semesters. The decision for “Pass” or “Probation” for upper division credit is a separate issue from the semester grade.

Piano Proficiency Exam (PPE)

Students will demonstrate proficiency in technique, literature, sight-reading, improvisation, harmonization, and transposition.

Piano Proficiency Policies and Procedures

Students aspiring to the Bachelor of Music in Performance degree or the Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree must enroll in Group Piano I through IV in consecutive semesters. BA majors in Music must enroll in Group Piano I and Group Piano II in consecutive semesters. The Group Piano sequence must be completed before a student can enroll in private piano lessons. Students who successfully pass all proficiency requirements in MU 214 will not be required to take a separate PPE. Students who have studied piano extensively before entering Washburn may take a placement test. See Dr. Tan for enrollment procedures and information.

Piano Proficiency Exam Requirements (PPE)

Technique

- All major and harmonic minor scales and arpeggios, two octaves, hands together in parallel motion, standard fingerings, by memory. Minimum tempo: MM=70 per quarter note.
- Primary chord progressions in all major and harmonic minor keys: I - IV6/4 – I - V6/5 - I. Hands together, by memory. Minimum tempo: MM=70 per quarter note.

Repertoire

- One piano solo piano piece equivalent in difficulty to Bach's "Prelude in C major" from the Well-Tempered Clavier (Book I) or Weber's "Scherzo." Memorization not required.
- One collaborative piano piece equivalent in difficulty to songs such as by Schubert's "Heidenröslein" or Schumann's "Ich grolle nicht." To be performed with a student partner or instructor

Open Score Reading - Sight Reading

- Open Score Reading: One score selected by the instructor based on the student's primary instrument/voice. Selections include SATB choral score, band score, or string quartet score. With advance preparation, use appropriate methods of transposing parts; work towards playing all voices simultaneously. Band score only needs to be prepared in three-part combinations (winds and brass).
- Sight-Reading: Play two piano works at sight. The level of difficulty will be equivalent to simple hymns, song accompaniments, or pieces from elementary school songbooks. One piece will be chorale style.

Harmonization, Improvisation, and Transposition

- Prepared Harmonization: Three single-line melodies selected by the instructor a week in advance. Harmonize and transpose to the indicated key, using primary chords and secondary dominants as needed. Improvise left hand accompaniment pattern per the style of the melody (i.e. broken chords, Alberti bass, waltz bass).
- Harmonization at Sight: Harmonize two simple melodies at sight. One melody includes lead sheet chords. The other melody does not have indicated harmonies, but can be harmonized using primary chords (I, IV6/4, and V6/5).
- Choral Warm-up: Harmonize a simple choral warm-up using a melodic and harmonic pattern provided by the instructor. Demonstrate an appropriate tempo for accompanying a choir or vocalist.
- Sing-and-Play: Play a two-bar introduction, and sing and play off a lead sheet selected by the instructor. The two-handed accompaniment should at least follow the initial pattern illustrated in the score, but students may create their own imaginative accompaniments.

Protecting Your Hearing Health
An NASM-PAMA
Student Information Sheet on Noise-Induced Hearing Loss

Hearing health is essential to your lifelong success as a musician.

Your hearing can be permanently damaged by loud sounds, including music. Technically, this is called Noise-Induced Hearing Loss (NIHL).

Such danger is constant.

Noise-induced hearing loss is generally preventable. You must avoid overexposure to loud sounds, especially for long periods of time.

The closer you are to the source of a loud sound, the greater the risk of damage to your hearing mechanisms.

Sounds over 85 dB (your typical vacuum cleaner) in intensity pose the greatest risk to your hearing. Risk of hearing loss is based on a combination of sound or loudness intensity and duration.

Recommended maximum daily exposure times (NIOSH) to sounds at or above 85 dB are as follows:

*85 dB (vacuum cleaner, headphones at 1/3 volume)–8 hours

*90 dB (blender, hair dryer)–2 hours

*94 dB (MP3 player at 1/2 volume)–1 hour

*100 dB (MP3 player at full volume, lawnmower)–15 minutes

*110 dB (rock concert, power tools) –2 minutes

*120 dB (jet planes at take-off) –without ear protection, sound damage is almost immediate

Certain behaviors (controlling volume levels in practice and rehearsal, avoiding noisy environments, turning down the volume) reduce your risk of hearing loss.

The use of earplugs and earmuffs helps to protect your hearing health.

Day-to-day decisions can impact your hearing health, both now and in the future. Since sound exposure occurs in and out of school, you also need to learn more and take care of your own hearing health on a daily, even hourly basis.

It is important to follow basic hearing health guidelines.

It is also important to study this issue and learn more.

If you are concerned about your personal hearing health, talk with a medical professional.

If you are concerned about your hearing health in relationship to your program of study, consult the appropriate contact person at your institution.

This information is provided by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) and the Performing Arts Medicine Association (PAMA). For more information, see the other NASM-PAMA hearing health documents, located on the NASM Web site at the URL link:

Protecting Your Neuromusculoskeletal Health
An NASM-PAMA
Student Information Sheet

Neuromusculoskeletal health is essential to your lifelong success as a musician.

Practicing and performing music is physically demanding.

Musicians are susceptible to numerous neuromusculoskeletal disorders.

Some musculoskeletal disorders are related to behavior; others are genetic; still others are the result of trauma or injury.

Some genetic conditions can increase a person's risk of developing certain behavior-related neuromusculoskeletal disorders.

Many neuromusculoskeletal disorders and conditions are preventable and/or treatable.

Sufficient physical and musical warm-up time is important.

Good posture and correct physical technique are essential.

Regular breaks during practice and rehearsal are vital to prevent undue physical stress and strain. It is important to set a reasonable limit on the amount of time that you will practice in a day. Avoid sudden increases in practice times.

Know your body and its limits and avoid "overdoing it."
Maintain healthy habits. Safeguard your physical and mental health.

Day-to-day decisions can impact your neuromusculoskeletal health, both now and in the future. Since muscle and joint strains and a myriad of other injuries can occur in and out of school, you also need to learn more and take care of your own neuromusculoskeletal health daily, particularly regarding your performing medium and area of specialization.

If you are concerned about your personal neuromusculoskeletal health, talk with a medical professional. If you are concerned about your neuromusculoskeletal health in relationship to your program of study, consult the appropriate contact person at your institution.

This information is provided by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) and the Performing Arts Medicine Association (PAMA).

Protecting Your Vocal Health
an NASM – PAMA
Student Information Sheet

Vocal health is important for all musicians and essential to lifelong success for singers.

Understanding basic care of the voice is essential for musicians who speak, sing, and rehearse or teach others.

Practicing, rehearsing, and performing music is physically demanding.

Musicians are susceptible to numerous vocal disorders.

Many vocal disorders and conditions are preventable and/or treatable.

Sufficient warm-up time is important.

Begin warming up mid-range, and then slowly work outward to vocal pitch extremes.

Good posture, adequate breath support, and correct physical technique are essential.

Regular breaks during practice and rehearsal are vital to prevent undue physical or vocal stress and strain.

It is important to set a reasonable limit on the amount of time that you will practice in a day.

Avoid sudden increases in practice times.

Know your voice and its limits, and avoid overdoing it or misusing it.

Maintain healthy habits. Safeguard your physical and mental health.

Drink plenty of water to keep your vocal folds adequately lubricated. Limit your use of alcohol, and avoid smoking.

Day-to-day decisions can impact your vocal health, both now and in the future. Since vocal strain and a myriad of other injuries can occur in and out of school, you also need to learn more and take care of your own vocal health daily. Avoid shouting, screaming, or other strenuous vocal use.

If you are concerned about your personal vocal health, talk with a medical professional.

If you are concerned about your vocal health in relationship to your program of study, consult the appropriate contact person at your institution.

Contestants will be judged per their technical mastery, musical ability, and stage deportment. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winner(s) of the Aria & Concerto Competition.

Winner(s) will appear as featured soloists with the Washburn University Orchestra. For information, regulations, and entry forms please contact Director of Orchestras.

Honors Concert

The Honors Concert features students selected through auditions by the music faculty division chairs. As with all recitals, students must secure the written permission slip signed by the applied lesson professor to audition for the Honors Concert.

Eligibility

1. The auditioning student must be recommended and approved by his/her major instructor.
2. Auditions are restricted to music majors and minors currently enrolled in applied lessons at Washburn University.
3. The Honors Concert is currently designed to feature solo work, thus small ensembles, studio groups, duets, etc.) will not be considered for spring 2021.

Audition Requirements

1. Instrumentalists/Vocalists: Approved literature will be at the discretion of the applied instructor.
2. Performance time: A total performance time of 15 minutes will be considered the maximum time allowed. If the performance time falls beyond this limit, the contestant's major instructor will secure the approval of the Music Faculty two weeks prior to the audition. Students who present a selection over the 15 minutes' timeframe without Music Faculty approval will be disqualified.
3. Auditions will be Tuesday and Thursday (& Wednesday, if needed) of a designated week. Students and their accompanists must be available to audition on all these days. Students who are not available at the assigned performance time will not be permitted to audition.
4. Students performing music requiring an accompanist will not be allowed to audition without an accompanist.
5. Students may not request specific audition times. All audition forms are to be turned in to the music office by the specified deadline.
6. The jury, at its discretion, may call back any contestant for further evaluation after the auditions. Contestants and their accompanists must be present after the auditions.

3. A numerical rating system (1-10, with 10 being high) will be used by the jury. In averaging, the highest and lowest scores will be omitted. After tabulating the scores, the jury will deliberate the results. Call-backs may then be requested by a majority vote of the jury.
4. After the final deliberations, contestants with the highest scores will be invited to perform on the Honors Concert. The number of performers will normally be limited to 4-6 for a total concert length of no more than 90-100 minutes.
5. One contestant will be selected as an alternate performer if a winner is unable to appear.

The award will be presented at the annual departmental President's Concert and will include a monetary component as well as the designation of honors on the student's university transcript, related university materials, etc.

Selection Process

1. Upper class students (junior/senior status by hours) interested in being considered for the Most Outstanding Music Major Award are invited to submit a cover letter, three open letters of recommendation (i.e. community member, employer, professional colleague, etc. Note: cannot include the applicant's applied area instructor), and a résumé citing significant contributions in the areas of Academic Achievement, Professional Growth, and/or Service, due to the music office, the first Monday of February.

- Music Major in good standing
- Upper class status (Junior/Senior by hours)
- Appropriate progress through the BA, BM, and/or BME degree plan
- A cumulative GPA of 3.75

3. Those students meeting the above criteria will then be evaluated in the areas of Academic Achievement, Professional Growth, and/or Service, by the Faculty Award Committee. 4. The recipient is required to attend the President’s Concert (date to be announced in the Music Department Spring Calendar of Events). The award will be presented at the concert. If the recipient does not attend the concert, the award, including the monetary component, may be forfeited.

5. An award winner can only be selected once for the Most Outstanding Music Major Award during their undergraduate degree. *The Faculty Award Committee reserves the right to not award, or, co-award (thus splitting the monetary gift) for any given academic year.

Program-based Washburn Transformational Experience (Optional)
The Senior Lecture-Recital WTE

The Senior Recital is the capstone of the applied study curriculum required in the Bachelor of Music degree. Students will perform a minimum of 45 minutes of music that is representative of 8 semesters of collegiate study in terms of repertoire selection, technical difficulty and musicianship requirements. Students will complete research on each of the composers and selections performed on their senior recital. They may present their recital as a Lecture Recital where the research is shared orally with the audience during the recital, or students may alternatively turn in a minimum 12 page fully-documented and footnoted research paper.

The senior recital has always been one of the most transformative experiences in the lives of our music students. Preparing a minimum of 45 minutes of music for a solo public presentation remains one of the greatest challenges for any developing musician. Students must prepare music that is representative of their selected area of emphasis in terms of technical difficulty and musicianship requirements. The senior recital WTE has added the extra dimension of research and the public presentation of their research in conjunction with their recital.

- a. Each student will perform a minimum of 45 minutes of music that is representative of a minimum of 8 semesters of collegiate study in terms of repertoire selection, technical difficulty and musicianship requirements. Music selections are made by the faculty mentor with input from the student. (3 months prior to the senior recital)
- b. The successful candidate for the senior recital WTE will demonstrate the technical skills requisite for artistic self-expression and performance excellence based upon a minimum of 8 semesters of collegiate study. (As demonstrated at the senior recital jury. See e.)
- c. Students will conduct research into each composer's history and the significance of each piece to be performed on the senior recital WTE. Students may present this research in one of two formats: a lecture recital or a 12-page accompanying paper. (To be submitted a minimum of 3 weeks prior to the senior recital jury date)
- d. Students will develop oral speaking skills by presenting a Lecture Recital. Students choosing this option must prepare the requisite research and submit the document to the three members of the senior faculty jury committee for approval prior to their senior jury. The committee will determine if the research is of sufficient breadth and quality. Alternatively, students may choose to NOT do a lecture recital. In this case the student will submit a minimum requirement of a 12-page paper with footnoted references. (Times New Roman, 12 pt. font, double-spaced).
- e. The student will perform a senior recital jury before a minimum of three faculty judges (minimum of three weeks prior to their senior recital date).
- f. The three judges will determine, based upon the jury, if the student is sufficiently prepared to present their recital to the public. (Three weeks prior to the recital date)
- g. Students will present their senior recital in a public concert.
- h. Students will complete all written application and process materials required for the WTE.
- i. Students may complete their senior WTE lecture recital in either the fall or spring semesters.

WTE Mentor Responsibilities:

- a. After a minimum of 8 semesters of study the faculty mentor and student will meet to discuss and plan the senior recital WTE.
- b. Select appropriate recital pieces that are representative of 8 semesters of collegiate study in terms of repertoire selection, technical difficulty, and musicianship requirements.
- c. Extra rehearsal time will be devoted to the student and accompanist to work out ensemble performance.
- d. Schedule a venue for the dress rehearsal and recital through the music office. If the recital is being held in the Carole Chapel, arrange for the recital to be recorded.
- e. Prepare the student for the senior recital jury and participate as one of three jury members for the jury.
- f. Meet with the student after the jury to discuss the comments and feedback provided by the jury.
- g. Make plans to focus on remediation and increased focus on the identified areas of weakness.
- h. Supervise and grade the required research paper and possible presentation as a lecture recital.
- i. Attend and coach the student for the dress rehearsal.
- j. Attend the senior recital.
- k. Provide feedback to the student regarding the senior recital WTE.
- l. Complete any WTE web-site forms.

2019-2020 WU Music Department Staff Accompanists Policies (updated 2018)

Department Policy:

Although some student and staff accompanists are available, the Music Department cannot guarantee the availability of accompanists for all students enrolled in applied lessons. Staff accompanists have their own policies that they will share with each student. If a departmental accompanist is not available or suitable, it is the student's responsibility to pay for an accompanist. Studio teachers must approve any accompanist, and reserve the right to make any changes. In addition, students may be asked to sign a release form to allow studio teachers to speak of pertinent student matters in the presence of the accompanist.

Departmental Rules:

- 1) Students assigned to a Washburn University Staff Accompanist may have one-half clock hour per week of accompaniment.
- 2) Any unexcused absence from a lesson will not be made up by the staff accompanist or the studio teacher. Any unexcused absence will be charged to the student. Students must give 24-hour notice to the studio teacher, the accompanist and the Music Department Office.
- 3) Students may not BANK rehearsal time without the express consent and agreement of the accompanist.
- 4) Students assigned to a Washburn University staff accompanist will be responsible for all accompanying charges incurred outside of their scheduled applied lesson time. These charges will include performance class assignments, student recital performances, and juries. The general fee for performance class assignments, student recital performances, and juries will be $25 per call. Fourth Semester Juries, Honors Concert, Concerto Aria Competition will be $40 per call.

Non-Departmental Rules:

- 1) Staff accompanists will receive a fee of $125 for Senior Recitals, and $100 for Junior Recitals. The recital jury will be $25. Other rehearsals will be billed at $20 per 1/2 hour.
- 2) All extra rehearsals are to be paid for at the time of the call. Junior and Senior Recital fees are to be paid (or arrangements made for payment) no later than the dress rehearsal.
- 3) Accompaniment for other on-campus events (Honors Concert, Concerto and Aria Competition, etc.) will be billed at $20 per call.
- 4) Accompanying fees for out-of-town events will be negotiated between the students and the staff accompanist. Mileage costs at the current rate allowed by the state will be paid for out of town events unless the student provides the transportation.
